Financial Services Face Escalating Outages

Massive growth in machine identities increases risk of certificate outages and data breaches

In the financial institutions, the number of machines—and the identities used to authenticate them—is growing faster than ever before.

3x machine identities by 2024

Large financial services firms will need to manage 1 million machine identities within the next 2 years

Average number of machine identities currently in large financial institutions

2022

320,000

Average number of machine identities exptected in large financial institutions

Dramatic increase in financial services machine identities continues Driven by initiatives, such as migrating apps and infrastructure to public cloud

instances and modernizing the build and deployment of services:

>50% Growth in certificates

Experienced by 32% of CIOs

>26% Growth in certificates

Experienced by 44% of CIOs

More machine identities = greater risk of outages

23% increase in financial institutions reporting certificate-related outages over the previous year

25% of CIOs with outages said they impacted business-critical systems 85% had at least 3 outages per year 57% had 12 or more outages per year

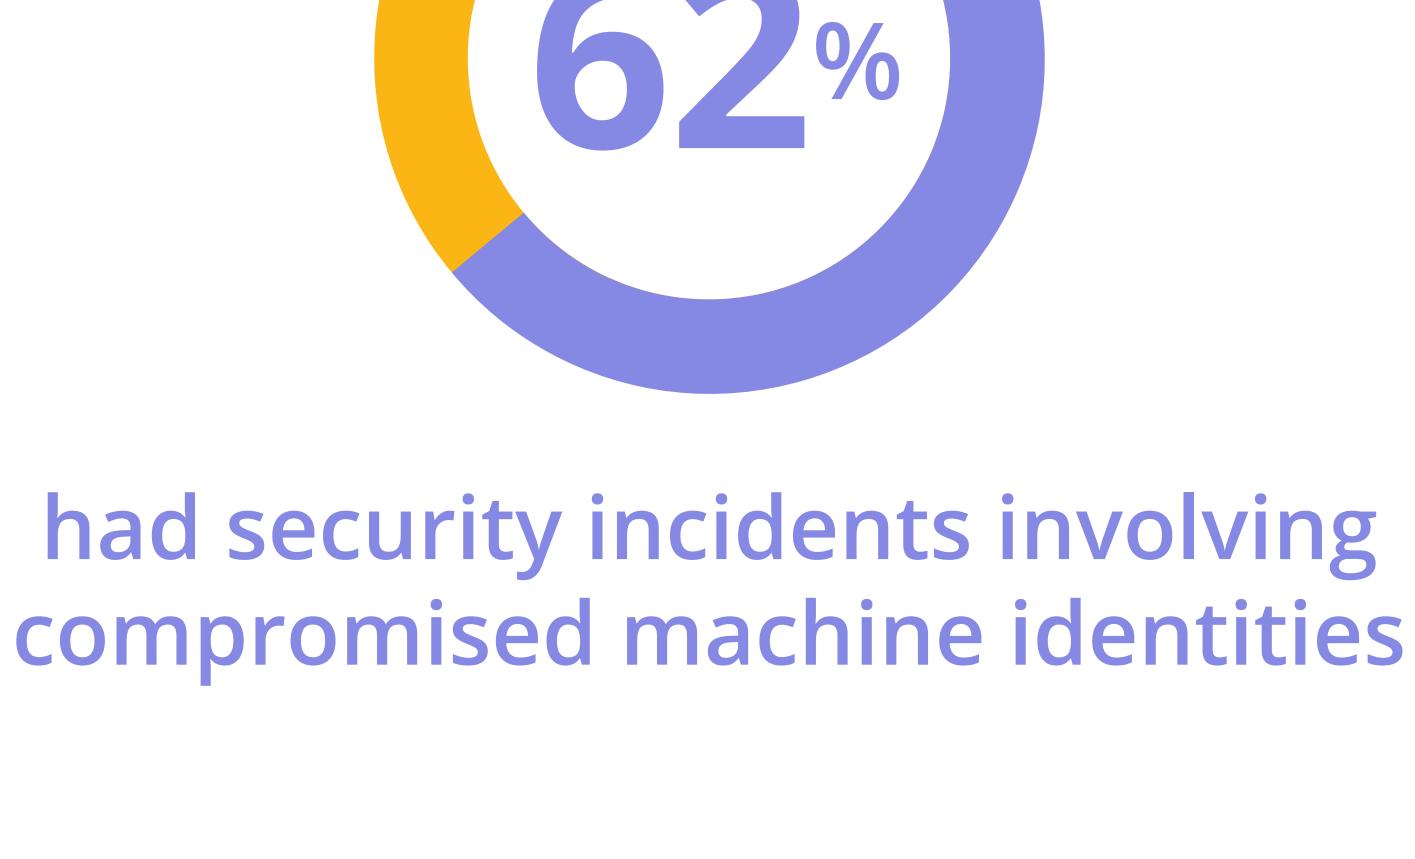

outages in the past 12 months

- 25% had 52 or more outages per year

The average cost of a data breach in 2021 was $4.24 million, a 10% jump from 2020.

More machine identities = higher risk of breaches or incidents

Consistent machine identity management remains a challenge

Siloed solutions lack enterprisewide visibility, consistency and control—and prevent financial institutions from scaling machine identity management programs.

- Automation is the answer to scalability issues

  - eclipsing growth in staffing
  - Effective automation requires an Automation is the only way to keep up with this exponential growth

Growth of machine identities is

 This solution can manage all types of machine identities across all advanced, holistic solution environments, including cloud

Learn how Venafi can help your financial institution automate your machine identities, no matter how many you have: venafi.com/financial-services

